The Hall of Taste is the place within the company Finagricola that intends to communicate to the host, in a simple and immediate way, the passion, quality and professionalism which create all the products of the brand "Così Com'è". The Hall of Taste is the place where, through seductive games of light and shadow, all the senses of the host are stimulated so that the perception of the high quality of the products is summarized and translated into a lasting impression thanks to the simultaneity of individual perceptions of sight, touch, smell, hearing and of course taste.
